

HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

"What did you do with the pheasant that crashed through your window last week?" I asked Dave Noel, Ocean Beach baker.

"Well," he said, "I gave him to the cop on the beat. He raised parakeets and canaries and has a flock of Rhode Island Red hens. He put the pheasant into a pen with the hens."

Robert F. Heilbron, principal at Point Loma High School says he's calling a meeting for next Wednesday, Feb. 16, in the high school library. Time: 4:30 to 5:30 p.m.

He's sending letters to about 20 service clubs and churches in the Peninsula area, inviting them to send representatives. It's an open meeting, and anyone interested is invited.

The purpose is to sound out the community on the possibility of bringing a foreign student to Point Loma High next September. It would be done through the American Field Service, whose program of exchange scholarships is "an experiment in international understanding."

When Heilbron was principal at La Jolla High, he got the project under way there. Two 17-year-old La Jolla students—a boy from Munich and a girl from Vienna—will be at the local meeting Wednesday to speak their pieces on the subject.

They are Michael Moesslang and Gerhild Hoeller, and I hope I spelled their names right.

When I attended a certain cow college, quite a few years ago, we had a variety of foreign students. It always amazed me how serious they were and how much harder they studied than we Americans did.

The guys from Holland, China, Mexico and South America were there to learn something. But I'm afraid we snooted them, for the most part, and they went home without a very high opinion of us.

Here's the point: The exchange scholarship program undoubtedly is effective on the high school level, where the kids are more democratic and less inclined to turn up their noses at a foreigner.

We can use a little "international understanding," huh?

Joe and Mary Lowmes, of Ocean Beach, are taking a trailer trip through Mexico.

They sent Clyde Wood, of the Peninsula News, a copy of "This Week in Mazatlan," an 8-page miniature tabloid printed on pink paper.

This mentioned the 520-trailer Wally Byams caravan, "just concluding its stay here in Mazatlan... acting as an unofficial opening for Mexico's new West Coast Highway."

The Lowmes are traveling with this caravan. They were delayed a week due to heavy rain and a bridge washout, they wrote. Some 400 trailers had to be ferried across the river.

"Joe fished at Guaymas and caught many red snappers... It has been too windy here (Mazatlan) to go marlin fishing but the men have caught a lot of smaller fish."

Arts & Gifts Shop Now Open In O. B.

Paintings will be displayed on "mats," thus keeping prices reasonable and eliminating changing of frames. Contemporary modern giftware still will be a popular feature, with Jean Harrington continuing to advise in this field. Also assisting will be Linda Lee and Ann White, both of this area.

Dail Promises To Help With Local Problems

Prompt attention to the problems of Ocean Beach, particularly preservation of the limited beach area at the foot of Newport Ave., was promised by Councilman Charles C. Dail, before a meeting of the Ocean Beach Citizens' Committee for Dail, last week.

Dail was introduced by Daryl Johnson, 1292 Santa Barbara St., who is chairman of the Peninsula Citizens' Committee for Dail.

Construction of a groin or extension of the south jetty to preserve the limited beach area at the foot of Newport is of utmost importance to the people of Ocean Beach, Dail said. He said that the engineering studies for such construction should be surveyed for feasibility of preservation of this important beach area, and that the various phases of such construction should be discussed by the City Council at the earliest possible date, so the city will be in a position to act in time.

Dail pledged prompt consideration of the project and urged that citizen representatives appear at an early council meeting and said that he would assist in the preparation of full discussion and airing of the problem.

Dail indicated interest in the planning for a new Ocean Beach fishing pier and said that this would stimulate future recreational activity for Ocean Beach. He also stated that the recreation program would have his full attention as Mayor in the improvement discussions concerning the forthcoming municipal budget preparation.

Dail cited the necessity for improving the recreational program in Ocean Beach as well as other parts of the city. Recreation, Dail said, is the principal means by which we can combat juvenile delinquency and often prevent it before it starts.

Rudrauff Talks On Mission Bay

In order to keep taxes down the development of Mission Bay as a recreational area should stay where it is under direction of the city manager, Jerry Rudrauff told the Mission Bay Republican Women's Club.

At a meeting in the Mission Bay Women's Clubhouse Tuesday the candidate for mayor said, "At a time when taxes are already too high, duplication of effort should be avoided for economy's sake."

"Every time we set up a new commission we add to the public payroll and find a new group of bureaucrats on our hands. Then we are asked to expand some more, to vote new bond issues and the tax rate goes up."

Bottom Fishing Sensational Off Point Loma

Bringing in almost unbelievable catches of red cod and groupers day after day, bottom fishermen appeared to be completely stealing the show this week although surface fishing conditions seemed to be improving steadily at the Rock Pile.

All the deep water reefs from Point Loma to the Coronado Islands seemed to be literally crawling with rock fish, and anglers made the most of the situation by filling their sacks to the bursting point. Last Saturday, for example, rod and reelers aboard three Point Loma and H. M. sportfishing boats took over 1000 fish, some of them running as large as 14 or 15 pounds, and equally good catches were made Sunday.

Mark Workman, 6 foot 9 inch All-American basketball center from West Virginia, was among anglers who came up with top bracket catches. Others from the Point Loma-Ocean Beach area who did equally well or better included: O. F. Meyers, Major Harry Halladay, C. J. Pappert, R. S. Watters, Harold Hanson, Louis Derby, and C. F. Moss.

Paintings will be displayed on "mats," thus keeping prices reasonable and eliminating changing of frames. Contemporary modern giftware still will be a popular feature, with Jean Harrington continuing to advise in this field. Also assisting will be Linda Lee and Ann White, both of this area.

Grand Opening

GIRL SCOUTS SELL COOKIES HERE BEGINNING SATURDAY

It's Girl Scout cookie time again!

From Saturday, Feb. 12 through Feb. 23, some 16,500 girls in San Diego City and County will sell more than 350,000 boxes of their special cookies this year.

Two varieties are available to customers for the first time—the popular shortbread type and the sugar filled wafer. Girl Scouts will urge customers to try two boxes—one of each kind—for one dollar.

Neighborhood cookie chairmen for 1955 include the following: Chatsworth—Mrs. C. Deets, 1823 Capistrano; Loma Portal—Mrs. W. J. Luxenburg, 3536 Quimby; Ocean Beach—Mrs. Clarence Strand, 1986 Venice; Point Loma—Mrs. William Elengard, 3816 Jennings.

Mrs. H. Stephen King, Girl Scout Cookie Sale chairman, explained that the funds received from the sale will help to build a new Girl Scout headquarters building; make repairs and replacements at the three Girl Scout camps in the Cuyamaca Mountains; and supplement funds from city and county Community Chests to meet operating costs of the Council.

Mrs. King says there are prizes for the top sales girls. The troop selling the most cookies also will receive an award. In addition, all registered troops will receive a bonus of 5 cents for every 2 boxes sold. Each Girl Scout has volunteered to sell 24 boxes of cookies. Those selling 25 or more boxes will be enrolled in the Girl Scout "Over-Quota Club," with certificate membership card and special honors accorded within the troops.

Last year cookie funds built a new kitchen for Brownie Camp and a new filter system for the camp swimming pool. Sixteen hundred girls attended the three established camps last summer. Many troops used the camps throughout the year.

Mrs. King wants the public to know that Girl Scouts selling cookies will be in uniform or pin. The cookies are official Girl Scout Cookies and the boxes in which they are packed are so designated.

Girls may not sell their cookies before Feb. 12. No money is to be accepted by the girls in advance of delivery of cookies, nor may orders be solicited prior to the kick-off date. Persons who do not wish to buy cookies more than once may cut a box-end from the Girl Scout cookie box and fix it in a window near their front door. Girl Scouts are asked to honor this "stop sign."

Anyone not contacted on February 12, who desires cookies, may call the Girl Scout office, BE-3-3191, and a Girl Scout in the neighborhood will deliver them.

The advertising & Sales Club of San Diego, local sponsors of the observance, will present special programs at service club luncheons and at school assemblies pointing out how advertising benefits everyone by creating a mass market which means lower prices to the consumer.

Seventh Calendar Luncheon Theme Proves Outstanding

Star gazing proved to be a delightful pastime for members of the Point Assembly February 3 when their annual Calendar Luncheon theme and decorations centered around the Zodiac.

One of the Assembly's most outstanding events, the seventh Calendar Luncheon this year was attended by 160 members, who honored their birth "sign" by sitting at tables representing the twelve zodiacal periods of the year.

The Ram
The Zodiac theme was originated by Mrs. Raleigh W. Burlingame, luncheon chairman, who introduced her table hostesses, Mrs. L. Carringer and Mrs. DeWitt Griffith portrayed the first sign of spring, Aries, the Ram, with handsome ram heads, sculptured from white paper.

Taurus, the Bull, calmed down a bit under the imaginative guidance of Mrs. James Ogle and Mrs. John Shellabarger. He is depicted by Munro Lea's book "Ferdinand the Bull", who always sat quietly under the cork tree, smelling his favorite flowers.

Gimini Twins
On a canopy of heavenly blue tulle, Gimini, the Twins, are cherubic baby dolls, representing Castor and Pollux, the two brightest stars among those of the Milky Way. Mrs. Clem Stose and Mrs. A. C. Black took this period of May 21 to June 21.

Mrs. A. P. Lyons and Mrs. J. C. Kermott signaled the arrival of summer with the true symbols of that month. A pastel blue crab, Cancer, held the center of attention for July. Surrounding the crab were the month's flowers, water lilies, and birth stones, pearls.

Leo, The Lion
Standing 15 inches tall and fashioned in miniature golden mums, Leo, the lion, reigned for August. A fiery summer sun made known its importance for the month while on earth brown cloth and brown candles made a fitting background for the symbols. Mrs. William Sample and Mrs. Alex Lesem were chairmen.

Signifying deep summer when the first frost and the first harvest are seen, Virgo, the Virgin, is portrayed in lovely hues of green and silver. Arranged by Mrs. J. D. Wier and Mrs. Archie A. Farmer, the figure of the Virgin forms the focal point of the table decorations.

Libra
Sharp contrasts of black and white, illustrating day and night, denotes Libra, the Balance. Mrs. Raymond Leach and Mrs. Ralph Hall arranged their table with fruits and flowers of the season, balanced on a picturesque scale. Mrs. Sidney Frantz and Miss Lucille Spinney's challenging subject was Scorpio, the Scor-

A three-foot venomous-looking scorpion, made of wired silver tinsel, crouched on a hill of white tinselled gauze. His chartruese eyes dared all diners to come within reach of his poised and poisonous tail.

Sagittarius
Cupid was chosen to portray Sagittarius, the Archer, who represents the hunting season and the ninth month. Mrs. Russell Kleigle and Mrs. E. P. Wyatt arranged their sentimental message on an emerald green background overlaid with a lace cloth. Nut cups shot with golden arrows were at each place setting.

Lavender and White
Novelty pins in the shape of goats with glittered horns and tails made favors for the January guests and set-off the table for Capricorn the Goat. Mrs. Carl Ackerman, Mrs. Fred Thompson and Mrs. Kenneth Wychoff surprised their guests with horoscopic fortunes hidden in their napkins. A 300-year-old epergne, valued at $500, formed the centerpiece and held glimpses of the frozen north.

Mrs. Richard Grihalva and Mrs. E. Evan Shaffer used an Egyptian water bearer to depict Aquarius, the Water Bearer. Lavender and white were the colors carried out.

An under-water scene with ceramic fish, real coral and fan seaweed portrayed Pisces, the Fishes for Mrs. George Gardner, Mrs. Arthur O'Keefe and Mrs. George Schmidt. The fish swam on a cloth of sea blue toward a floral grotto of blue corn flowers.

San Vicente Boasts Good Bass Fishing

Reports are coming in that some good catches of bass have been taken at San Vicente Lake, which is about eight miles south of Ramona.

When Mark T. Saunders, Rt. 2, Box 922 of El Cajon caught his seven pound, three ounce bass in San Vicente, the first of the month, it caused considerable excitement in fishing circles as it was the biggest caught this year. Since then, several above average catches have been reported but none to top this.

The Lake is open to fishing on Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays and trailer and camp space is available at McGowan's Fernbrook Resort about a mile from the lake.

McGowan's, Alice and Mac, are former Ocean Beach residents. They acquired the resort property last summer and with their children, Pat and Karen, and their "animal kingdom", consisting of their spaniel, Duchess; two huge cats, Copy and Bambi; (It was Copy who made the headlines as "The Immaculate Cat") and two Parakeets, Chi Chi and Chita; moved to their present location in the beautiful eucalyptus and pine trees.

Mac McGowan was formerly in the meat business here and Alice is the daughter of the Al Munchlindo's of Ocean Beach. Many people have called to ask about them. Their address is, Ramona, Route 1, Box 476, Phone, Ramona 8719-R1. They would be glad to hear from old friends.

Telephone call saves farmer $400. Gus Holman, pointing above, of Butte Four Corners, Calif., is a farmer who really values his telephone. Not long ago, he and his brother needed a tractor fast. They couldn't find one nearby at the price they wanted to pay. So they went to their telephone. With one call, they found just what they needed... at a saving of $400. Cost of the call: only $1. "Our telephone pays us back a lot more in time and money saved than it costs us," says Mr. Holman. And that's the aim of telephone people everywhere—to bring you the good service you need to get things done... and to bring it to you at low cost. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Existentialism In Paris Theme Of Clarke Lecture

To mark the occasion of his seventieth public lecture in San Diego, John Robert Clarke will explore the most widely celebrated theory of living to come out of Europe in recent decades, the lecture, "Existentialism Comes To Paris", 8:00 Tuesday evening, February 15, at House of Hospitality, Balboa Park.

Noting that the excitement in Europe over this way of life remains baffling to most Americans, Clarke will explain what its leaders are trying to do against the background of Europe today.

Assisting in the coffee and discussion period will be "Adventures in Living" staff members, Misses Joan Fairchild, Margaret Jensen, Allison Belden, Eve Berman, Ruth Maxwell Rice, and Messrs. Charles Mannering, Kenneth Fassler and Stephen James.

Final lecture of the current Park talks will be "The Self In a Can and Label Society," on February 22nd, in which Clarke brings the various perspectives of the "Adventures in Living" series to bear on the problem of shaping our personal philosophy in a busy age. All lectures are open to the public at a nominal donation.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pace of Omaha, Nebraska, are visiting at the home of Mrs. W. B. Henry, 5031 Santa Monica avenue. The Nebraska couple will remain here another two weeks before returning home.

Sherman, 10, enjoyed visiting his former playmates.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Barnard promise to be regular readers of the Peninsula News now that they are here settled in their own home in the 3800 block on Atascadero Ave. The couple came here from South Pasadena.

One of Ocean Beach's most attractive young ladies is now settled in her own home in the 4500 block on Santa Cruz. She is Iris Van Saanen and had formerly resided in the 2400 block on Froude Street.

The Democratic Central Committee will observe two important days when they sponsor a Valentine dance on Saturday, February 12th in the Mission Beach ballroom. The dreamy, danceable music of Russ Morgan's band will furnish the music. As a refresher course in his music disc jockeys of San Diego are receiving requests for his platters.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Cole and Son, Lee now are in their own home in the 4000 block on Coronado Avenue.
